Flying from Wilson to a Mara airstrip costs more per person than a road transfer, but it saves five mombasa to masai mara fly in safari to six hours each way and reduces vehicle fatigue.

On a three day safari, flying can effectively add a full game drive, which changes the value calculation. On a longer trip, road transfers spread the cost over more days.

Baggage limits on light aircraft mean the road https://masaimarasafaripackages.net/from-mombasa/ option suits travellers with heavy camera kit or large luggage. Compare total trip cost, not the transfer line alone, including the extra night a road transfer may require. Full comparison is at %LINK%.
