Armor and Protection

In Rust, protection is the difference in between brushing off a gunshot and heading back to the beach. Armor values on the wiki are computed based upon physical defense, projectile defense, and radiation resistance.

Typical Armor Sets

- Burlap/ Leather Set: Early game protection; simple to craft, offers very little defense against guns, but decent versus cold and wildlife.
- Roadway Sign/ Wolf Headdress Set: Mid-game meta. Balances motion speed with reputable bullet defense.
- Metal Facemask/ Metal Chest Plate: The gold standard for late-game PvP. Integrated with a hoodie and trousers, this kit supplies optimal defense against raids and wandering squads.

Raiding Tools and Explosives

If developing a fortress is half the fight, tearing down another person's is the other half. The Rust Items Wiki provides accurate explosive computations, helping raiding celebrations figure out the number of resources they require to breach a base's honeycomb walls.

- Pouch Charges: Unreliable, unstable, but inexpensive for mid-game raids.
- Timed Explosive Charge (C4): The traditional, trusted base-destroyer. Offers massive localized damage.
- Explosive 5.56 Rifle Ammo: Fired from a silenced rifle, this approach is quieter and enables exact splash damage on doors and walls.
- Rocket Launcher: Uses Rocket, High Velocity Rocket, or Incendiary Rocket ammunition for devastating splash damage.

Tips for Navigating the Wiki Like a Pro

With countless pages, searching the Rust Items Wiki can often feel frustrating. Keep these professional ideas in mind to get the information you require quickly:
