In the online casino variation, a player drops a ball (or puck) from the top of a pyramid-shaped grid of pegs. As the ball falls, it randomly bounces left or right off each peg till it lastly settles into among a number of slots at the bottom, each carrying a various multiplier value.

 - High Risk: Concentrates the huge multipliers on the extreme outer edges, making them much harder to hit while increasing the frequency of low-value center drops.
2. Row Count: Players can frequently choose the number of rows of pegs are on the board-- typically ranging from 8 to 16. More rows imply more intricate paths, broader boards, and considerably higher optimum multipliers.
3. Bet Size: The amount staked per drop, ranging from cents to significant sums depending on the casino limits.

Compared to standard fruit machine (which often balance 94% to 96%), Plinko uses an incredibly high theoretical return.
- The Bell Curve Reality: Because of how possibility works, the ball is mathematically probably to land in the center slots, which usually use multipliers lower than 1x (leading to a bottom line on that drop). To accomplish success, a player needs to rely on the ball bouncing toward the outer edges, where the high multipliers reside.
