- The severity of injuries
- Medical records and history
- Cost of medical treatment

- Lost wages due to missed work

This evaluation process can become significantly more complicated if you have pre-existing conditions.

Types of Insurance Coverage

Understanding the types of coverage available can help you know what to expect during the claims process:

- Liability Coverage: Covers damages to another party if you're at fault.
- Personal Injury Protection (PIP): Covers medical expenses for you and your passengers.
