Cannabis Products Available at The Woods Aurora

Cannabis preferences are personal, which is why having different product formats to choose from can make shopping easier. Depending on current inventory, The Woods Aurora may offer a variety of cannabis products from established cannabis brands.

Dried Flower

Dried flower remains one of the most familiar cannabis products for adult consumers. Different strains and formats can offer distinct aromas, flavours, cannabinoid profiles, and experiences, giving shoppers a range of options to explore.

CBD Gummies, Oils and Lozenges

For customers interested in CBD-focused products, options may include CBD gummies, CBD oils, and CBD lozenges. These products come in different formats and can be convenient for adults who prefer alternatives to dried flower.

Always review the product label and current package information before purchasing or using any cannabis or CBD product.

Live Resin

Live Resin is a cannabis concentrate known for its aromatic and flavour-forward profile. It is made using freshly harvested cannabis that is processed in a way intended to preserve more of the plant's original terpene profile.

Because concentrates can differ considerably from traditional flower products, customers who are unfamiliar with Live Resin may want to ask knowledgeable store staff about the product format before making a purchase.

THC Oil

THC Oil provides another format for adults who prefer cannabis products that don't involve smoking dried flower. Product potency, ingredients, serving information, and recommended use can vary, so always check the packaging and follow the manufacturer's directions.
