What is a CS: GO Case Battle?

At its core, a case battle is a multiplayer variation of the conventional, solo case-opening mechanic. Rather of buying a case, opening it, and hoping for the finest in isolation, gamers enter a lobby where 2 or more individuals pool their resources to open the exact same cases simultaneously.

The mechanics are straightforward:

1. The Buy-In: Participants pick a set of cases and agree on the number of rounds. The overall expense of the cases functions as the entry cost for each player.
2. The Opening: Rounds play out sequentially. In each round, every player opens the designated case.
3. The Scoreboard: The worth of every skin dropped is tallied in real-time based upon present market costs.
4. The Winner: At the end of all rounds, the player (or group) who has accumulated the highest overall monetary value of skins wins all the products dropped in the battle-- consisting of those opened by challengers.

If luck is on a gamer's side, they can win a stock worth greatly more than their preliminary buy-in. If luck stops working, they lose everything. It is this high-risk, high-reward dynamic that drives the enormous popularity of the format.
