Valve's Crackdown and Industry Evolution

The relationship in between Valve and third-party gambling sites has been adversarial for many years. In 2016, Valve issued cease-and-desist letters to lots of significant skin gambling sites, arguing that they violated the Steam Subscriber Agreement and facilitated underage gambling.

In reaction, the industry adapted. Sites moved from utilizing Steam accounts directly for automatic trading to making use of cryptocurrencies (Bitcoin, Ethereum, GBPT) or peer-to-peer trading systems. More recently, Valve executed a 7-day trade hang on freshly traded items, significantly interrupting the instant liquidity that made skin gambling so popular. Regardless of these obstacles, the marketplace continues to adapt, discovering brand-new loopholes and technological skinlords.com workarounds to stay functional.
